

School Safety and Security Seminar

November 16, 2018 ■ Hyatt Regency Chicago

SEMINAR IS FULL

As school safety is the top concern for all school districts, the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB), in conjunction with the Joint Annual Conference, will be hosting a half-day School Safety and Security Seminar again this year.

It is vital for school district personnel and the community to have the latest information regarding keeping their schools safe, and that is why the School Safety and Security Seminar will be open to all district and community personnel who oversee any aspect of school security.

School board members and administrators are encouraged to invite their local emergency responders, school resource officers, school security directors, facility directors, and others who help prepare and carry out security procedures on their campuses to attend this important Seminar.

The 2018 Seminar will highlight the following information:

- An overview of school safety best practices and resources shared by the Illinois Terrorism Task Force.
- Insight into behavioral assessments — the Illinois School and Campus Safety Program will detail the purpose and implementation of these assessments.
- Best practices for school building security highlighted by Facility Engineering Associates.
- Hear from a parent whose children experienced the Sandy Hook shooting and learn how to anticipate the unthinkable.

There will be eight school safety panel sessions during the Joint Annual Conference for those registered for the Conference. These panel sessions will touch on different aspects of school safety. At the time of Conference, look for this safety symbol ▲ in the Conference Program booklet for any safety panels.

We hope your district and community school safety leaders will take advantage of this Seminar taking place at the Joint Annual Conference in November.

Anticipating the Unthinkable

Presenter: Carly Posey, "I Love U Guys" Foundation

Carly Posey is an advocate for school safety. During the Sandy Hook Elementary school shooting in 2012, the shooter entered her son's first grade classroom. After shooting his teacher and a student, the shooter stopped to reload, and Posey's son ran out of the classroom to the fire station nearby. Her fourth-grade daughter remained hidden in an art room office at the Sandy Hook School. Her two other children, at the intermediate school in Newtown, were in lockdown for five hours.

Posey tells her story of no one being prepared for what happened inside Sandy Hook Elementary School. She shares what went wrong and right on that day and the days and years to follow. She shares her perspective on the events and how a school community can be proactive and be prepared for the unthinkable. Carly gives real solutions on school safety and recovery in the aftermath. She has spoken to school communities around the country to help prepare and prevent the unthinkable. She was the executive director for Safe2Tell Colorado for two years. Currently works for Anderson Software, an anonymous tip reporting technology company. She proudly serves on the board of the "I Love U Guys" foundation.

Carly, her husband Dave, and four children moved to Parker, Colorado on December 15, 2012 where she advocates for a proactive approach to school safety, both mental and physical.
